Washington, January 17.—(Special.) Atlanta's population by April 15, 1915, will have reached 183,710, according to figures which have been compiled in the office of the United States census bureau.

April 15, 1915, will be just five years since the 1910 decennial census and mid-year until the census of 1920. In this period of five years the population of Atlanta has shown an increase of 28,971 people. The increase since June 1, 1900, as shown by the census bureau figures, will be exactly 35,837.

These figures have been compiled for the Constitution from the records of the United States census bureau, and the computations are made in accordance with the methods followed in promulgating the annual estimates.

On April 15, 1915, the population of the state of Georgia will be 2,808,007, compared with 2,509,926, on April 15, 1910, an increase of 188,081, or at the rate of 7.62 per cent for the five-year period.

Greater interest in the description of the manner of making the annual estimates, as given by the census bureau, William J. Harris, director of the bureau of the census, he says:

It is assumed that the annual increase each year since April 15, 1910, has been based on the annual increase in the number of months from June 1, 1910, to April 15, 1915, in the case of Georgia, is based on the basis of the increase for each month. In other words, the population in 1910, subtracted from that of 1915, gives the increase for the five-year period, and this multiplied by twelve gives the increase for one year. The arithmetical mean is used by this bureau and not the percentage of increase.

The estimates given for the state are for April 15, rather than for July 1, the latter being the date of the annual estimates given by the census bureau.

This change is made for the reason that the April 15 figures are the year period since the last decennial census—the half-way mark between the census and the coming of the next.

In addition to the figures for population, the tabulation also includes estimates on color, nativity, sex, foreign birth, race of voting age, illiteracy, school age, dwellings, and families. The figures follow:

NEW MONEY SHEET NOT SATISFACTORY Chances Are Finance Com- mittee Will Ask Council Today for More Time for Consideration.

After practically a week of deadlock, the finance committee of council finds itself faced this morning with a sheet that is still hopelessly unsatisfactory and is up against the Herculean task of finding a tentative sheet to present to council when it meets this afternoon.

The prospects of striking a balance sheet to present to council, however, seem extremely remote, and the indications are that the committee will have to report to council on the sheet and ask the matter be returned to the committee for further consideration.

As the sheet now stands the committee is called upon to make current revenue of $4,000,000 meet something more than $4,000,000 worth of demands.

After wrangling for the better portion of last week over such difficult issues as the foregoing the members of the finance committee were glad to get a sheet on Sunday, and this morning they talked of the situation on Sunday only with the greatest reluctance.

It appears, however, that there was not so much, if any, change of faith among the members of the committee, and it will take up its work Monday under about the same conditions that existed at adjournment Saturday.

BURGLARS AND LOOT CAPTURED BY NEGROES Two Brothers-in-Law Render Signal Service to Police Department.

If all of Atlanta's colored population was as brave as Thomas Byrd and Frank Williams, brothers-in-law, of 16 Bumstead street, and believed as these two negroes do in turning up to the police all burglars and robbers of their race, the police would soon be able to rid Atlanta of the gangs of burglars that have been continually burializing Atlanta residences and stores.

This is the opinion of Col. Officers Long and Austin, who early Sunday morning were called to Byrd's home by the negro's wife, who told them that Byrd and Williams had captured two burglars.

When the officers arrived at Byrd's home they found Byrd, armed with a shotgun, and Williams, armed with a pistol, holding prisoners two negro youths, who had chosen an alley next to Byrd's home to divide the loot they had secured a few minutes earlier in the night. When it is alleged, they burglarized the general merchandise store of T. W. McLeod, 241 South McDaniel street.

About $200 worth of shoes, raincoats, hats, underwear, overalls and other articles were being divided.

Byrd had overheard the conversation of the negroes in the alley, and, with Williams, they covered the robbers with their weapons, while Byrd's wife summoned the police.

The burglars gave their names at police headquarters as Arthur Smith, 14 South McDaniel, and Charlie Thomas, 216 South McDaniel. They confessed to the police that they burglarized the McLeod store.

ARTILLERY BENEFIT PROVES BIG SUCCESS

The effort of the Atlanta artillery to obtain funds for its trip to the Panama exposition by giving a vaudeville and picture show at the Grand Opera house Sunday was a gratifying success, financially speaking.

From the opening of the doors the house was packed. Hundreds were compelled to wait without seats at the continuous show. The bill was one that furnished an unending interest.
While no admission was charged, voluntary offerings were taken at the door. So pleased were the patrons with the show and the purpose of the proceeds that large numbers attending gave liberal additional donations when leaving the house.

The public has been unexpectedly generous, said Captain A. J. McBride, and contributed our share of the expenses. We certainly appreciate this and shall try to do everything in our power at the exposition that Atlanta should require.

CLAY LEADING SEARCH FOR MISSING BROTHER

No Evidence of Foul Play, Report Investigators at New Orleans.

New Orleans, La., January 17.—(Special.)—Herbert Clay, solicitor general of the Blue Ridge circuit, and the son of the late United States senator, S.
C. Clay, arrived here today to lead the search for his brother, Lieutenant Frank E. Clay, who has mysteriously disappeared.

He had been granted a furlough, and started home from San Francisco, via New Orleans, where he intended to spend several days. When he failed to reach Atlanta, his family not having heard from him since just before Christmas, an investigation was started.

It was at first reported that a bundle of bloody clothes, apparently those of the missing man, had been found near New Orleans. This was denied last night, however, in dispatches received by the Associated Press. The Constitution correspondent stated that there was absolutely no evidence of foul play.

This brother, the police and Captain G. H. Field, of the army, a retired officer, are now conducting the search.
His friends fear, however, that he is suffering from a nervous breakdown caused by his long service in the Philippines, and as a result is now ill in some hospital.

The investigation was expressed tonight by Captain Field, who says he believes that Clay's illness has prevented him from telling his identity.

Lieutenant Clay, who is 26 years old, is a graduate of West Point of the class of 1911. He served at first with the Sixth regiment in the Philippines, and when this regiment was ordered back to the States he was transferred to the Tenth regiment, where he served three years' foreign service. He was then transferred to the Seventeenth, now at Eagle Pass, Texas, but formerly stationed at Fort McPherson, and was on his way to Atlanta from the Far East. He had made fine work in the service, and was popular in army circles.

Washington, Ga., January 17.—(Special.)—The funeral services over the body of Mrs. Mary S. Callaway, of this county, whose death occurred Friday last, were held at the residence of her brother, Mr. J. H. Callaway, of Washington, D. C., on Sunday morning.

In the family cemetery near the old Callaway homestead, Mrs. Callaway was 66 years old. She had been ill several weeks. She was the wife of the late Mr. J. H. Callaway, one of the most prominent Baptist ministers of the state at the time of his death about twelve years ago. She is survived by her husband, Mr. J. H.
Callaway, of Augusta; Mr. W. Callaway, of Clarksville; Mr. E. Callaway, of Augusta; Mr. W. Callaway, of Edgar, Ga.; and Miss Anna Callaway, of Wilkes county.

Mrs. Charles Sindall.
Mrs. Charles A. Sindall, former well-known choir singer of the First Baptist church, died Friday at her home in Baltimore. She was the widow of Charles A. Sindall, who was connected with the Central of Georgia railroad, and lived in Atlanta from 1880 to 1900. Upon the death of her husband, Mrs. Sindall moved to Baltimore and was a woman of exceptionally fine character.
She was about 60 years old.

Mrs. Anna Beets. 51 years old, died Saturday night at a private hospital of 167 South E. St. She was the widow of Mr. H. B. Beets, a well-known mortuary parlor of Harry G. Poole.
The deceased is survived by her children, Mrs. A. Beets, and her daughters, Miss Clara and Lawrence Beets.

Death of Infant.
The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J.
Hickman, of 167 South E. St., died

RAILROAD RAIL HELP MARKET STATE CROPS

N. E. Marshburn, of the A., B. & A., Will Aid Farmers of Georgia.

Responding to the need of finding a satisfactory, dependable market for the increasing variety of food crops grown in southern Georgia, the A. B. & A. railroad has been able to associate with it, as market agent, N. E. Marshburn, of LaGrange, Ga., who has had many years of experience in marketing Georgia-grown produce. It will be recalled that Mr. Marshburn originated the "pink meat" cantaloupes—so successfully fully grown around Fitzgerald last year.

The creation of this market bureau by the A. B. & A. railroad will supply the only missing link in its farm improvement department, which already has farmers co-operative agents (men of college training and practical farming experience) located at many points along its line, in personal daily contact with the farmers, aiding in working out the problems that arise from time to time, giving practical advice in soil improvement, crop diversification, soil preparation, selection of seed and the crops to be market, and the improved methods of cultivation.

These men serve another necessary and useful mission. They give practical demonstrations and instruction in packing and shipping, and are working at the time of packing, so that the farmers' produce may meet up to the high standards required in the large markets.

These farm co-operative agents will be establishing his identity. They will make weekly reports to the market agent, and the crops to be market.

The market agent, first, learning what he will have to sell, will take up a central point among the consuming centers and will be advised of each crop ready to move, so that the shipment may be direct or divert such shipments to the final destination offering the best prices.

Find a Blind Tiger When Searching Home Of Negro for a Knife

When Col. Officers Long and Austin went to the home of Julius Green, a negro, 46-B Bowers street, early Sunday morning to arrest him on the charge of splitting another negro's head open with a knife Saturday night on Decatur street, they found a blind tiger.

The officers began to search Julius' home for the knife he is alleged to have used in the attack on the negro's head. In the search a trap door opened in the floor, revealing a hole a rug was located. When the police opened this door they saw 100 pins of blind tiger liquor, which was the final destination offering the best prices.

No Longer Attorney For Mrs. Annie Stoe.

Says Col. Haralson.
Colonel Frank L. Haralson, well-known member of the Atlanta bar, whose name appeared in The Constitution's story of the recent trial of Mrs.
Annie Stoe, of 102 Spring street, as her attorney, wishes the public to know that he is no longer representing Mrs.
Stoe legally.

Colonel Haralson defended Mrs. Stoe at her trial before Judge Harrison, when she was bound over on the testimony of Ethel Bryant, 16 years old, on the charge of running a disorderly house.

Mrs. Stoe was again arrested Saturday afternoon by city detectives on the charges of Ethel Bryant that Mrs. Stoe had poisoned her for testifying against her, and that Mrs. Stoe had forced her to sign an affidavit that she had sworn falsely against her in recorder's court.

Colonel Haralson last night, "and don't want the action to get the impression that it was in my office that Ethel Bryant is alleged to have been forced to sign the sensational affidavit."

VERDICT OF SUICIDE AT GORDON INQUEST

A coroner's jury, impelled at the undertaking establishment of Greenberg & Bond Sunday afternoon, returned a verdict of suicide over the body of Nathan A. Gordon, the well-known dead in a room at the Williams hotel.

Gordon's funeral will be held this morning at 10 o'clock at Greenberg & Bond's, and interment will take place in Oakland cemetery.

Read, how these wonderful trips are possible.

HOW YOU CAN OBTAIN A TRIP

The plan evolved by The Atlanta Constitution whereby you can take one of these wonderful trips as outlined is as simple in understanding as it is easy of execution. Although The Constitution has a large circulation, there are some who at present are not subscribers. They want the Daily and Sunday Constitution, but have put off ordering from day to day. The Constitution desires your assistance in locating and placing these people on its subscription list, and for this favor you are to be liberally rewarded.

Points will be given on each new subscription payment to The Atlanta Constitution according to the schedule given above and after you have obtained the required number of points a wonderful trip to the greatest of all expositions will be yours.

You may nominate yourself or a friend as a candidate for one of these trips. The names of all candidates nominated will be published in The Daily Constitution from time to time, giving their respective standing.

Each candidate on nomination will be credited with 100 points free, and will be provided with an authorized Constitution receipt book. These receipt books may be had by applying to the Circulation Department of The Constitution. Each candidate obtaining one of these free trips may take the trip to San Francisco any time during 1915 he or she may desire. The exposition opens on February 20, and closes December 4, 1915.

Special arrangements have been made with the McFarland Tourist Agency to furnish the various trips we are offering and the starting point of all of the successful candidates will be Atlanta. If you want to go to the exposition this is your opportunity. Send in your nomination at once and request The Constitution Receipt Book, full description of "Itinerary" and complete instructions.
